WebSub Rocks!

Control

Decentralisation

As a publisher simply link to the hub which maintains a list of subscribers and others can subscribe to follow the content in real time.

While in the indieweb HTML & MF2 pages are commonly used, WebSub itself doesn't care about the content type of the page. HTML, Atom, JSON. You can choose whatever.

WebSub is a way to subscribe to changes of things. CNN posts news on their homepage, if you want to know when they update you can subscribe by WebSub. See news real-time. Another option is to poll them periodically.
